Edinburgh: Royal Commission on Ancient Monuments of Scotland, 1946. 1st Edition. Rare complete 3 volume set in original blue cloth bindings. All with ownership markings, stickers and stamps of A J Firth - mainly to the front endpapers, but the Orkney volume has a sticker on the front cover too. All three volumes are complete and the maps of Orkney and Shetland are both present. Vol I: Report and Introduction - the dustwrapper is present but it is covered in film and sellotaped at the folds so it can not be removed from the book. Contents in fine clean condition. Vol II: Orkney - binding very worn with a slack spine which is faded, pulled and frayed, and worn and frayed corners and edges. Small mark on front board. Sprawling pencil scholarly note on the rear free endpaper. Contents complete with the 3 folding plates. A number of old postcards and photographs have been sellotaped in at appropriate points. Some are missing, leaving the sellotape marks. 3 are loose and preserved in a separate bag. The map has a little browning at the folds and an old pencil note at the bottom. Vol III - Shetland - binding with rubbing and wear to spine ends, joints, corners and edges. Small mark on front board. Endpapers with foxing. Contents generally clean - couple of card stuck in with sellotape and some sellotape marks. Map in very good clean condition. Fair. Hardcover. (10828) £100.00

Alexander Peterkin. Rentals of the Ancient Earldom and Bishoprick of Orkney; with some other explanatory and relative documents. Edinburgh: 1820. 1st Edition. Largely unopened and in the original publisher's card wraps with paper title label. All 6 parts and Appendix complete. The binding is pretty worn and the stitching a bit wobbly (unsurprising as the publisher's wraps were only supposed to last until the new owner had the volume properly bound). Old ownership signature at the front endpaper. Contents are very clean. Good. Publisher's card wraps. (5608) £190.00

Alexander Peterkin. Rentals of the Ancient Earldom and Bishoprick of Orkney; with some other explanatory and relative documents. Edinburgh: 1820. 1st Edition. In probably contemporary half leather binding with marbled boards. The leather has been allowed to dry out and is rough with tearing at the top spine end and surface loss. Internally a section has been torn from the top of the front free endpaper, and pages 29-32 have lost the top corners (text not affected). The text is generally clean, but there is annoying heavy pencil crosses and marks against some of the paragraphs. These are in the margin and don't affect the text. Everything is present as it should be up to p116 of the Appendix. The numbering is odd because it restarts at every section! Pages 117-135 which continue the Appendix text through to the end of the book are missing. P 27 in section 6 is detaching at the bottom. Poor. Half leather . (9226) £50.00

Andrew J Campbell . Fifteen Centuries of the Church in Orkney. Kirkwall : The Kirkwall Press , 1938. 1st Edition. A very clean bright copy of this scarce work sadly with a few ink annotations inside. The binding is bright red with gilt titles to the spine and front board. There is light wear and slight fading to the spine ends and to the corners. Internally there is an old ownership signature to the front endpaper and a loose picture of St Nicholas Church, Evie. From Chapter V onwards there is occasional marking in ink - this consists of small ticks in the margin and the occasional underling of a particular sentence. There is a brief handwritten ink index on the back of p 113 which is the final page of text. Good. Hardcover. (9222) £30.00

James Farrer . Notice of Runic Inscriptions discovered during recent excavations in the Orkneys. Printed for private circulation , 1862. 1st Edition. An extremely scarce original copy of James Farrer's account of his work on the excavation of Maes-Howe in Stenness, Orkney, together with a few other barrows. James Farrer (1812-1879) was MP for Durham and an enthusiastic member of the Society of Antiquaries of Scotland. He 'opened' the mound in July 1861, at which time it had a conical shape, and removed the contents. Sadly, and typically of the time, there was no systematic analysis and recording. Farrer discovered a number of runic inscriptions inside the tomb and this work has images of them with translations. The binding has a gilt design (copied from the runic inscriptions in the Howe) to the front board and gilt titles to spine. Contents: colour printed frontispiece with tissue-guard; title page; contents list; preface; text with 5 plates - 2 double size and one colour printed; appendix; readings of the inscriptions with 7 further plates - 2 double size. The binding is very clean with some light wear at spine ends and corners. It has been expertly rebaked and so is sound and tight. The endpapers have been replaced. The frontispiece, which is usually very browned and spotty, has been professionally washed and the image is now clear. The tissue guard to the frontispiece has been replaced. There is the usual toning to the paper and spotting to the title. Very good +. Decorative cloth . (10631) £520.00

James Fergusson . A Short Essay on the Age and Uses of the Brochs and the Rude Stone Monuments of the Orkney Islands and the North of Scotland. London: William Mullan and Son , 1877. 1st Edition. John T Reid. Pictures from the Orkney Islands. Edinburgh: David Douglas, 1881. 1st Edition. Only 500 copies of this work were printed. Reid toured the Orkney Islands and sketched what he saw, aiming for a companion volume to 'Art Rambles in Shetland'. He photographed the drawings for the work and then destroyed the negatives. This copy is in the original cloth binding with gilt decoration and titles to front board and spine, and bevelled edges. All page edges gilded. The spine is very worn, particularly at the top and there is general wear to edges and corners. Contents consist of Reid's drawings with some brief explanatory text. They are generally clean with some spotting to frontispiece, tissue guard and title page. There is the odd mark and a pencil signature to the half title. The book is currently reasonably sound, but it is shaken and cocked to the front with some initial splitting at the endpaper joints. Good. Decorative cloth . (3928) £300.00
