Agnes Catlow . Popular Field Botany; containing a familiar and technical description of the plants most common to the various localities of the British Isles; Popular Natural History Series. London: Reeve & Co , 1852. 3rd edition . Part of Lovell Reeve's Popular Natural History series, designed for children and young people. Reeve used a number of reputable authors to take popular natural history subjects such as field flowers, entomology and the study of shells, and put together works that covered basic technical ground in an understandable way. They were all well-illustrated, usually with hand coloured plates. This copy is in the standard decorative binding and has 20 hand coloured plates. It was one of the more popular of the series. The binding is in very good clean condition with bright gilt decoration to the front board and spine. Internally the front free endpaper is missing but remaining contents complete and clean. There is light toning to page edges and the stitching is a little wobbly at points. Good +. Decorative cloth . (4375) £30.00

Agnes Catlow . Popular Field Botany; containing a familiar and technical description of the plants most common to the various localities of the British Isles; Popular Natural History Series. London: Routledge, Warne and Routledge , 1860. 4th edition . Part of Lovell Reeve's Popular Natural History series, designed for children and young people. Earl of Selkirk . Observations on the present state of the Highlands of Scotland, with a view on the causes and probable consequences of emigration. London and Edinburgh : Longman, Hurst, Rees, and Orme; Constable and Co, 1805. 1st Edition. First edition copy rebound in modern buckram cloth and quarter leather spine with gilt titles. The binder has chosen to leave the pages untrimmed as they would have been when issued by the publisher. This is an important work from the era of the Highland Clearances. The Earl of Selkirk encouraged and supported emigration of dispossessed Highlanders to Canada and this book gives an account of the situation in the Highlands and the settlement he founded in Canada. It went through turbulent times and barely survived. Selkirk was ruined in the process. This copy lacks the errata slip but is otherwise complete. There is a lot of brown spotting, mostly to the untrimmed page edges. Fair. Quarter leather. (1879) £80.00

Justin McCarthy . A History of Our Own Times - Volumes I - V. London: Chatto and Windus, 1880-1899. various. An interesting set with the decorative bookplate of Ludwig Neumann of Grosvenor Square to the front endpapers. Justin McCarthy MP started with one volume and then expanded his history as the years passed into a 4 volume set. He later added volumes to keep up - so Vol V is an additional volume from 1897 (5th thousand printed). The 4 volume set is largely the New Edition from 1899. All the contents are in very good clean condition. The bindings are full tree calf with marbled page edges and endpapers. The spines are in crumbly condition and have been attached to the bindings. The style and condition of the bindings suggests volumes older than the publisher's date of 1880's onwards. Ludwig Neumann was a book collector with considerable income, so it could be that he had these history volumes bound in bindings from an earlier book - maybe to match others in his library. Good +. Full calf. (1702) £40.00

Paul Henri Mallet, Johan Goransson, Thomas Percy, Thomas Carnan, Thomas Hookham . Northern Antiquities: or a description of the Manners, Customs, Religion and Laws of the Ancient Danes, And other Northern Nations; including those of our own Saxon Ancestors. With A Translation of the Edda, or System of Runic Mythology, and other pieces from the Ancient Icelandic Tongue. In Two Volumes London: T Carnan and Co , 1770. 1st English Edition . Complete 2 volume set of the 1st English Edition, translated from the French of Paul Henri Mallet by Bishop Thomas Percy, and including Goranson's Latin version of the Edda. Looks to be in the original publisher's boards with taped spines. Marbled page edges. The bindings are sound but very scuffed and worn - particularly around the edges. Both volumes have 2 armorial bookplates at the front endpapers. The pastedown endpapers have the bookplate of Prince Augustus Frederick, Duke of Sussex (1773-1843) with the motto 'si deus pro nobis quis contra nos' (if God is for us, who can be against us?'. Volume I is internally complete and very clean. 415pp. Volume II which contains the Edda and additional notes, has some staining which starts at p 156. It is mostly at the bottom margin and bottom gutter to page 244. From p 247 the staining is further up the gutter, and towards the end the paper becomes quite fragile. There is a hole and general paper damage to the rear free endpaper but the text pages remain intact and readable. It is likely that the book became damp and affected by mould. 356 pp. Fair. Hardcover. (6768) £190.00

Rev F O Morris . A Natural History of British Moths Vols I-IV. London: George Bell and Sons , 1872. A good copy in the original decorative cloth bindings with 132 hand coloured plates. The Reverend Morris was a well known writer on natural history, publishing a 6 volume work on British Birds (still sought-after today), a 3 volume work on the nests and eggs of British Birds and a single volume work on British Butterflies. All were much reprinted. This is an early reprint of Moths and is complete and clean. The bindings have some wear, generally to spine ends and corners, and the occasional light mark. They are sound - vols II and III slightly shaken with stitching visible at points. All have signatures to the front endpapers. Good +. Decorative cloth . (3477) £250.00

Rev George Barry. The History of the Orkney Islands: in which is comprehended an Account of their Present as well as their Ancient State; together with the advantages they possess for several branches of Industry, and the means by which they may be improved. Edinburgh: Printed for the Author by D Willison and sold by Archibald Constable and Co, 1805. 1st Edition. 1st edition copy complete with folding map, frontispiece and 10 further plates. In part contemporary half leather binding with marbled boards. The spine has been replaced, copying the original design with gilt lined raised bands to spine and title label. The corners have been repaired with new matching calf. There is light wear to edges. There is a pasted label on the front pastedown endpaper and old ownership details at the top of the title page: 'Miss Steuerts'. The contents are in very good clean condition with light toning to paper and some offsetting from the plates to the opposing text pages. There is the occasional light mark. A major work on the history of Orkney but controversial in that there is extensive use of George Low's (1747-1795) unpublished work, which was not acknowledged.
Very good. Half calf with marbled boards. (7026) £375.00

Rev George Low. Fauna Orcadensis. Edinburgh: Archibald Constable and Company et al , 1813. 1st Edition. In contemporary half calf binding with marbled boards. Title label and raised bands to spine. The binding is sound but is very neglected and worn with leather loss to both spine ends and corners and substantial marbled paper loss. Old ownership details at front endpaper. Contents collate complete. Damage with archive tape repair to the top page edge of p 7. Paper is lightly toned and there is a lot of marking and spotting - some of it grubby. A comprehensive study of Orkney's fauna in the early nineteenth century. Fair. Half leather . (5617) £150.00

Samuel Hibbert . A Description of the Shetland Islands, comprising an account of their scenery, antiquities, and superstitions. Lerwick : T & J Manson , 1891. 2nd edition . A very good clean copy of the 2nd edition. Relatively few copies of the 1822 1st edition were produced. It had a number of illustrations and a folding map and was expensive. T & J Manson reprinted it in 1891 because of local demand, but took the decision not to include most of the illustrations and the folding map because the costs would have been prohibitive. This edition is not particularly common either. The binding is half calf with cobbled cloth boards. The spine has title label and gilt compartments. There is light wear to edges, corners and spine joints. There is an inscription to the top of the initial blank. Contents are complete and in near fine condition with the occasional pencil annotation. Very good. Half calf . (4107) £120.00
